

Protect Children and Families Experiencing Homelessness from Having to Sleep in Unsafe Places:
Actively Support the Senate's Emergency Assistance Program Language in Line Item 7004-0101 in the Final FY'18 Budget

The Problem:
Many families with children experiencing homelessness are forced to sleep in cars, bus stations, and other unsafe places before they are admitted into shelter.

- Based on the state's own data, 628 families with children had to sleep in cars, bus stations, emergency rooms and other unsafe places in FY'16 (July 2015 through June 2016) before they were found eligible for emergency shelter through the state's Emergency Assistance (EA) program. In the first 10 months of FY'17, another 501 families were approved for EA only after staying in such dire circumstances (16% of all families approved, for an average of 50 families/month).
- Families are showing up at hospital clinics and emergency rooms with no other safe place to sleep, which in turn drives up health care costs. Educators across the state are expressing concern about the fate of their students whose educations are being disrupted as their families search for a safe place to sleep.
- This crisis is due to onerous shelter eligibility restrictions imposed by the Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) in September 2012. Under these regulations, in the first ten months of FY'17, at least 46% of the families who applied for shelter were denied (3,481 out of 7,515 families that completed applications, as reported by DHCD). For FY'16, the denial rate also was 46% (4,410 out of 10,019 families).

The Simple Solution: Adopt Senate language in line item 7004-0101 to allow otherwise eligible families to be placed in shelter when they are heading to stay in a place not meant for human habitation, not just after they have stayed there. (See over).

The Cost:
Less than $300,000 per year.

- Based on DHCD's own numbers, we estimate that approximately 700-1,000 families per year will first have to stay in places not meant for human habitation before getting shelter if this new language is not adopted.
- If each of these families got placed in shelter one night earlier to avoid this fate, the cost to the Commonwealth would be only about $91,000-$130,000 per year (based on an average cost of $130/night). Even if each family received shelter two nights earlier, the cost would be less than $300,000 per year.
- DHCD's own data shows that many of these families are getting into shelter now – but only after sleeping in unfit places. It's gone too far.

Protect Children Experiencing Homelessness in the Final FY'18 State Budget:
Adopt Senate Language in Line Item 7004-0101 to Provide Shelter to Families with Children That Otherwise Would Be Forced to Stay in Places Not Meant for Human Habitation
